AUTO ROADS IN NATIONAL DEFENSE

Highways Near Coasts of Greatest Benefit.

CARRIERS FOR AMMUNITION

Roads to Be of Military Value Should Be Constructed Everywhere That a Considerable Population, Agricultural,
Manufacturing, Trading or Mining,
Has Its Habitation.

Numerous instances might be cited to show the effect roads or their absence had on campaigns in the civil war, although their importance was infinitely less than now, when the automobile threatens to drive even the world famous army into oblivion.
Writes Major A. A. Fries, U. S. A., in the New York World. It is the automobile, with its speed and carrying power, and the wonderful flexibility of an army using it that make roads so vitally important in war today. A railroad must be provided with side tracks, turntables and yards, which for a huge business such as war, must be very large and take time and great quantities of material in building. Not so with automobiles, where every foot of a highway, unless in a deep cut or fill, is a side track where machines may unload and turn around. Furthermore, in dry weather almost any field can be used for unloading and loading the machines so as not to congest the roads at the place where men and materials are needed.

The answer to the question where roads should be constructed to be of military value is—everywhere that a considerable population—agricultural,
manufacturing, trading or mining—exists. In any great war we shall have to marshal all of our resources, just as the European nations are doing at the present time. Every product of our soil or factories will be called upon for use, and roads will be required on which to carry them to the places where needed. Fine roads along the coasts and land boundaries will be the most important and should be the first to be constructed.

While highways intended primarily for military purposes should be located near our boundaries, they must not be so near that they can be easily raided or captured by small bodies of the enemy and thus likely to be of use only to him and not to us. All roads farther inland and parallel to the border roads will be of very great value as feeders to those nearer the borders. Along these interior roads men and supplies may be moved long distances without fear of interruption or observation by the enemy and thus contribute greatly to the element of surprise so essential to victory in modern war.

During mobilization and the early stages of the war there will be many and rapid movements of large bodies of troops. Here roads and automobiles will be deciding factors, for, as everybody knows from the progress of the war in Europe, the one who gets the start has an enormous advantage that will cost the other side many times the original loss to overcome. Later in the beginning of a campaign, when movements are rapid and there is little opportunity to intercept, three inch guns and shrapnel will be very largely used, but just as soon as there is time to intercept there will be an opportunity for the larger guns to come up to fire high explosive shells to drive the enemy out of his entrenched positions. This may be called the second or trench warfare stage of the campaign, when hundreds of thousands of rounds of high explosive shells will be required for every twenty-five miles of battle front. In all these operations the number of automobiles required will be tremendous, but with the vast number in general use and being manufactured every day it is inconceivable that there ever will be a shortage after the first confusion is over.

Road Improvement and Land Value.
The influence of road improvement on the value of rural property was described in a letter recently sent to the Manufacturers' Record by the president of the Baltimore Commercial bank, who wrote: "Around my home town in Virginia property could be bought three years ago for $80 to $80 an acre. We put a fine road several miles through that county, and today you cannot buy anything for less than $100, and some is held at $150 per acre."

Nearly $2,000,000 From Autos.
The license tax during the first year of operation under a horsepower and weight scale will net Michigan $1,750,- 000, according to present indications.
At the close of business Nov. 1 the secretary of state had received $1,728,- 922.30.

POULTRY AND EGGS

TURKEY RAISING HINTS.

Methods of Incubating the Eggs and Caring For the Hen.
(Prepared by United States department of agriculture.)

Turkey hens and chicken hens are ordinarily used to incubate turkey eggs, although incubators are quite generally used where turkeys are raised on a large scale. During the early part of the laying season it often happens that there are on hand a number of eggs that should be set before any of the turkey hens are through laying their first litter and become "broody." In such case and also when it is desired to have the turkey hens lay a second or third litter some of the eggs have to be incubated under chicken hens or in an incubator. About a week before the poults are to hatch

SEPARATE SITTING COOP FOR TURKEY HEN.

A sufficient number of turkey hens should be allowed to sit to take all the poults hatched. They can be given a few eggs from the incubator or from under the chicken hens and allowed to hatch the poults themselves, or at night a newly hatched poult can be slipped under each turkey hen that is to be given a brood of poults, and by morning they will be hatched.

Nests for sitting turkey and chicken hens are best made on the ground by hollowing out a little earth, so that the center is deep enough to keep the eggs from rolling out of the nest. A thin covering of clean straw or hay can then be used to prevent the eggs from being directly on the ground, and a large roomy coop should be placed over the nest to keep the hen from being disturbed.

When a hen becomes broody and shows that she is in earnest by remaining on her nest for two or three nights she may safely be trusted with the eggs, provided she is allowed to sit in that nest. If she is to be set in an other nest, as is usually the case, then she should be removed to the new nest, preferably after dark, given a few new eggs and shut in to prevent her from returning to the old one. If she sits quietly on the nest eggs she should be taken off on the evening of the following day and the eggs to be incubated placed in the nest. On being freed she will probably return to her old nest. If so she should be carried back and shut in to prevent her from returning to the old nest, when she will immediately feel them beneath her and settle down to cover them.

Turkey hens do not ordinarily come off for feed and water more than once every two or three days, but when confined they should be given an opportunity to come off every day. Occasionally a turkey hen does not come off at all, and in such case she should be taken off once a day, as otherwise she will die on the nest.

A dust bath is greatly enjoyed by sitting hens and helps to keep them free from vermin. While corn is a good feed, and fresh water and grit should always be accessible.

Lice are a great annoyance to sitting hens and are one of the worst enemies of young poults. To prevent their getting a foothold the hen should be dusted thoroughly with some good lice powder before she is placed on the nest and then both the hen and nest should be similarly treated once a week for the first three weeks of the incubation period. The nesting material should be kept clean, and if the eggs become dirty they should be washed with a soft cloth dipped in lukewarm water.
Just before the poults are to hatch the old nesting material should be replaced with clean straw.

The incubation period of turkey eggs is twenty-eight days.

For Scaly Leg.

If the hen has scaly legs use one part lard and the same amount of coal oil mixed and applied to the legs after the chicks are several days old. Also at the same time take about one-third of a teaspoonful of lard or vaseline and rub the grease into the heavy feathering between the thighs. Part the feathers and rub it into the festhers next the skin.

Hatching Goose Eggs.

It requires a full month to hatch a goose egg, and incubation is performed by either a hen or a goose. A good sized hen will cover five eggs, and a goose can take care of as many as fifteen. It is seldom that any of the goslings are lost, except through accident or exposure to hard storms while still very young.

OUR KIND OF A MAN.
By JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY.
(Copyright 1887, 1888, by James Whitcomb Riley.)

THE kind of a man for you and me!
He faces the world unflinchingly And smites, as long as the wrong resists,
With a knuckled faith and force like fate:

He lives the life he is preaching of
And loves where most is the need of love;
His voice is clear to the deaf man's ears,
And his face sublime through the blind man's tears.

The light shines out where the clouds were dim,
And the widow's prayer goes up for him;
The latch is clicked at the hovel door
And the sick man sees the sun once more,
And out o'er the barren fields he sees Springing blossoms and waving trees, Feeling as only the dying may That God's own servant has come that way.

Smoothing the path as it still winds on Through the golden gate where his loved have gone.

The kind of a man for me and you!
However little of worth we do
He credits full and abides in trust That time will teach us how more is just.
He looks on sin with pitying eyes—
Even as the Lord, since Paradise.
Else, should we read, though our sins should glow
As scarlet, they shall be white as snow?

And, feeling still, with a grief half glad,
That the bad are as good as the good are had,
He strikes straight out for the right—and he Is the kind of a man for you and me!

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

O, slow to smite and swift to spare,
Gentle and merciful and just!

Who, in the fear of God, didst bear
The sword of power, a nation's trust!

In sorrow by thy bier we stand,
Amid the awe that hushes all,
And speak the anguish of a land
That shook with horror at thy fall.

Thy task is done; the bond are free.
We hear thee to an honored grave, Whose proudest monument shall be
The broken fetters of the slave.

Pure was thy life; thy bloody cause Hath placed thee with the sons of right,
Among the noble host of those Who perished in the cause of right.

—William Cullen Bryant.

STEER RETARDED IN GROWTH

Stunting an Animal a Result of Insufficient Food May Be Only Temporary Condition.

Live stock products are the result of growth. By far the largest part of increase in animals is the result of growth. The younger the animals the greater the growth impulse. Many factors influence the tendency of an animal to grow. Among these are age, condition, gestation, lactation and the quantity and quality of food. A given amount of food will produce more growth on a young animal than on the same animal at a later age. All the growth factors influence the young animal much more powerfully than older animals.

If an animal's food supply is insufficient for normal growth, the animal may be retarded in growth. If this

Well-Fed Steer.

treatment is continued for a long time the animal may become permanently stunted.

Stunting an animal is the result of insufficient food may be only a temporary condition. An animal does not lose its capacity to grow as the result of stunting. F. B. Howard, dean of the Missouri College of Agriculture, cites a feeding test at the Missouri experiment station in which a steer that had been stunted by poor feeding to such an extent that it weighed only 200 pounds at twelve months of age, gained 841 pounds during the second year. Only 5.6 pounds of gain for each pound of gain made were required on this steer stunted during the first twelve months. A steer that had been generously fed during the first twelve months of his life gained only 500 pounds during the second twelve months, and this gain was more expensive than the gain made on the stunted steer. The amount of gain required to make a pound of gain on the well-fed steer was 9.8 pounds.

It is certain that stunting an animal even for so long a period as twelve months does not destroy its capacity to grow.

GAINS MADE FEEDING LAMBS

Result of Test at South Dakota Station to Determine Value of Alfalfa and Prairie Hay.

The best gains ever secured at the South Dakota experiment station in feeding lambs was in an experiment to determine the comparative value of alfalfa and prairie hay with the same kind of a grain ration.

The grain ration consisted of a mixture of 100 pounds of oats, 100 pounds of shelled corn and 25 pounds of oil meal.

Each lot was started on one pound per head of the mixture daily, and increased until they were receiving two and one-tenths pounds per head of grain daily, and what hay they would eat.

The average daily gain per head for the lot that received the alfalfa hay was .51 of a pound, while with the lot that received the prairie hay, the average daily gain per head was .38 of a pound.

DAILY EXERCISE FOR STOCK

Horses and Mules Should Be Given Run for an Hour or So in Lot Adjoining Stables.

Horses and mules should have good daily carding and regular exercise. If there is nothing for them to do remove their shoes and give them a run for an hour or so in a well-fenced lot adjoining the stables.

The best and safest fence for pasture is of stout woven wire, rail or a combination board and smooth wire.
Barbed wire should not be used, as it is dangerous.

SUNLIGHT IS BIG ESSENTIAL

Provision for Admission of Maximum Amount of Light in Barn Should Not Be Overlooked.

No barn or shelter for any kind of animals should ever be constructed without making ample provision for the admission of the maximum amount of sunlight. Such buildings should have a southern exposure, if possible.
This will provide extra warmth in the winter time and the sunlight which is thus permitted to enter the building will destroy many disease germs.

The Victor system of changeable needles enables you to meet every acoustic condition

A "fixed point" can't be perfect for all conditions!
If it is perfect for the ball-room it won't be perfect in the den.

If it's perfect in the den it will be inadequate in the ball-room.
If it is perfect for one music-room it will not be perfect for another music-room which is different in size, acoustic properties and furnishings.

Consequently changeable needles are best, because—in no other way can reproduced music be perfectly suited to every home and to any room in that home without in the least degree changing the artist's interpretation. That can be done only with the Victrola because of the changeable needles. It can not be done by any sound reproducing instrument which is unable to adapt itself to its own particular surroundings.

There are Victrolas in great variety of styles from $15 to $300—easy terms if desired. Come in and we'll gladly play any music you wish to hear and demonstrate the advantages of the Victor system of changeable needles.

IHC Wagons Are Tough

Did you ever notice when one of the wheels of your loaded wagon dropped into a rut or bumped over a stone how the seat springs gave and rebounded, almost throwing you off? That is an indication of the shock and strain that the rigid spokes and axles have to stand whenever the wagon is traveling over a rough road or through a field. IHC wagons

Weber New Bettendorf Columbus or Steel King

take these stresses and strains as a matter of course. From neckyoke to tail board they are built of selected, air-dried lumber, strong and tough, bending to strains but coming back as straight and true as ever when the load is removed. Besides being tough, IHC wagons are light running. The wheels have just the right pitch and gather, and run true. All skeins and skein boxes are paired. The running gear is assembled by skilled workmen whose wages depend as much on the quality as on the quantity of the work they turn out. Consequently, IHC wagons are practically all of the same high standard of quality throughout.

Weber and Columbus wagons have wood gears; New Bettendorf and Steel King have steel gears. To learn which IHC wagon is best suited to your work and conditions, write

Girls of Beech Creek Are Patriotic.

Beech Creek girls have shown a dash of patriotism which should be an example for other folks in Muhlenberg and elsewhere. There was a dog and pony show at that place, and everybody was going. But seven small girls stood out against their wishes, and decided to give the sum they would thus spend, to the Red Cross, and the sum of $1.55 was sent to the treasurer, Mr. John T. Reynolds. These are the kind of contributions which count for they show real self sacrifice, and like the widow's mite, will count more than any other. Credit and honor to the Beech Creek girls. May their glorious ranks be increased.

Drouth Harasses Farmers.

It has been many weeks since there has been a rainfall of any amount in Muhlenberg, and this has brought about a condition which is very disturbing. Farmers are having to drive stock and cattle to creeks and rivers, in many instances being miles from their farms, and so much trouble has been encountered by several that they have sold their cattle. As this scarcity of water has grown to be a regular thing, and if anything is getting worse, it is imperative that every farmer who has not an adequate water supply, or is near one, should provide a pond. A few days' work would build a pond, and would prove the best investment the land owner could make. Cattle could then get to water at all times, which is very important.

Roark sells all styles of Victrolas, from the $15 to the most precious in woods and hals. Prices run as high as $900.

MUHLENBERG COUNTY

To Have Agricultural Fair Here on

Muhlenberg county will have an Agricultural Fair at Greenville, October 19th and 20th. This has been made possible by the co-operation of the business men of Greenville and the Community Clubs over the County. The Community Club exhibit, the individual contests on the main farm crops, the competition of the girls and ladies, the Club Boys' competition and several good speakers on farm crops will be the main features of this Fair. The Fair will be held at the Court House and all are expecting to get a great deal of benefit therefrom.

The prizes offered for the various classes are not so large, nor is it intended to put the Fair on the money basis. The main incentive for the exhibits will be the spirit of friendly rivalry between the various farm Clubs over the county and individuals. It is hoped by the promoters of the Fair that all will take a keen interest in it, and will secure a great deal of information which will work for the betterment of farming in the County.

BIG CIRCUS ANNOUNCED

Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace Shows Are To Exhibit At Central City Next Thursday.

The billboards and dead walls about the city are announcing in all the eloquence of pictorial art that the Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus is to visit Central City Thursday Oct. 18. It is of great interest to the citizens of this city because the circus is a truly tented exhibition offering an array of trained wild animals. The name Carl Hagenbeck for nearly a century has stood at the top in the annals of wild animals. Every zoo of any importance in the world receives its charges from the Carl Hagenbeck headquarters at Hamburg, Germany, as well as the fact that the menageries of all circuses are similarly supplied.

So much interest did the Carl Hagenbeck trained wild animals cause at the St. Louis World's Fair in 1904 that the owners of the Wallace Circus entered into negotiations with Mr. Hagenbeck. The result was that both great institutions were united into one of the biggest tented exhibitions in the world. Year after year the two shows have gone on improving. As fast as rare and costly animals were captured in the jungles of the uncivilized world they have been forwarded by the agents of Carl Hagenbeck to the great American show.

But the trained wild animals which appear in an arena with the Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus are but one feature of the big show. This year's program is one of unusual interest. An entirely new array of European artists have been added and are appearing for the first time in the United States. Altogether there are more than 400 artists with the circus who appear in the six arenas. The big show will give an all new street parade at 10 a. m. preceding the first exhibition. Performances are given daily at 2 and 8 p. m.

Save—and Help Win the War!

Manufacturers and jobbers all over the country are now enclosing in all shipments a printed slip, containing this important suggestion and request:

Save—and Help Win the War! Save this box, carton or crate, and the twine, paper, excelsior, etc., as all these items are costly. Do your bit by conserving, and keep the material in use.

The Victor Talking Machine Co. does more than 40 per cent. of all the business in that line. "There's a reason." Let Roark show it to you.

Our "Foreign" Soldiers Doing Fine Too.

Letters and cards from our "foreign" soldiers are quite as encouraging as reports from the boys at Camp Zachary Taylor. Mr. Felix Martin, in the aviation corps, located at Athens, is very enthusiastic over his work, and has passed every examination with high credit, although five in his class of eighteen have been turned down. Mr. J. A. Gilman, in the engineer's corps at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, has been on double-quick since he entered the service, as his class was made up a month before his arrival, and he is having to make up that much work. He is meeting all requirements in fine style, and says the bunch of men is as fine a body as he has ever seen and been associated with, while the surroundings are all that one could wish.

Change of Subject.

I talked of war and dead men's bones till all around were tired, and something else than grief and groans my weary aunts desired. So then I talked about the crops, the barley and the wheat, till people heard my soulful yawns the whole length of the street. I said, "I'll give them divers tunes, from this, my willing lyre," and so discussed the price of prunes, the cost of baled hay wire. I spied a while of art and song, of flowers that bloomed in spring, and thus I chirped the whole day long, of this and t'other thing. And every time I paused to draw a deep, refreshing breath, the other fellow plied his jaw, and talked of war and death. When all the world is talking scrap, and blood and snicker snees, there's no attention for the chap who speaks of buds and bees. I'd like to talk about the birds that carol in the bush. I'd sing of sunsets in the west, that gild the crag and tor, but when I pause to take a rest, some chap brings in the war. Walt Mason.

Our Soldier Boys Growing Enthusiastic.

Letters from our boys at Camp Zachary Taylor are growing enthusiasm and cheerfulness, and the spirit of patriotism is increasing. Many false reports were spread, some of them emanating in the camp, but now the most disquieted friends of the boys are at ease, and the disturbance seems over, except the hot punch our boys help deliver to the Germans when they get to France.

Next Friday and Saturday are Agricultural Fair days here, and great crowds will be here both days, to view the fine displays that are being provided.

Our Red Cross chapter is one of the most active in this section, and work along all lines is being done by men, women and children.

Mr. C. M. Howard was in Louisville on business the first of the week and found a few hours to be with our soldier boys at Camp Zachary Taylor, finding them all in high spirits.

Buy the instrument the greatest artists of the world select to reproduce their supreme efforts. You can't fool them, and they select the Victrola. Let Roark demonstrate and explain the superior qualities.

Muhlenberg should observe Good Road day by turning out en masse and working the highways in every section of the county.

Mr. Buren Martin, who has been in Albuquerque, N. M., for several months, is home for a stay of a few weeks. He has received much benefit, and greatly improved in every way.

Central City will be the center of the county next Thursday, when vast numbers of our people from all sections of this and adjoining counties will gather there to attend the great Hagenbeck Wallace circus, afternoon and night.

Let Roark show you some rare wallpaper bargains.

Send Soldier Boys Victrola.

The boys from Muhlenberg at Camp Taylor asked our people for a Victrola, and in a week the money had been made up and now the boys have the instrument, and are enjoying its many delights. The matter will not stop here, for other things will be provided, and our boys will never think that we have forgotten them. Following are the subscribers to the Victrola fund:

Central City Play for Soldier Boys.

The young people of Central City will give "My Dixie Girl," a play of merit, at the opera house there tomorrow night, the proceeds to go to the fund for Muhlenberg soldier boys at Camp Taylor. It is a certainty that a large audience will enjoy the play and help in this patriotic movement.

Fire Alarm, But Small Damage

A fire alarm at 5:40 Monday evening drew a large crowd to the home of Mrs. J. A. Rose, on Hopkinsville street, but a blaze started by sparks falling from a flue on the roof had been extinguished by a garden hose before the arrival of the fire department. The loss was slight. This is the first fire alarm in many months, and as our fires usually come in groups of three, everybody is using extra vigilance to see that the fiend does not break out in his store or home.

Our people should refrain from peace talk, as it is an aid to Germany. It is up to the Germans to talk peace, for we are preparing for war and on a basis to bring peace that is worth while.

There will be a special meeting of the Red Cross at the court house tonight at 7 o'clock, and every member and all others are invited to be present. There will be an election of trustees of the Chapter.

It is thought that our next installment will be sent to Camp Zachary Taylor about the last of the month. The district board will not meet again until the 29nd, and they have not certified a sufficient number yet to supply the 79 men yet needed on first call.

The U. S. Agricultural Department estimate of the corn crop for October is 73,000,000 bushels, less than that made a month before, and a revised estimate will doubtless increase the shortage, as frost since the first of the month have blighted vast quantities of the cereal.

Young Man Dies Thursday.

Edward Lewis Reno, 16 year old son of Mr. E. E. Reno, died at 11:30 o'clock last Thursday morning at the home on Main street. He was stricken on July 4th with typhoid fever, and numerous complications developed, which could not be overcome. "He was a bright, clever boy, and his untimely death has caused sorrow in a wide circle. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Howerton, and burial was at Kinchloe's Bluff graveyard at 2 o'clock last Friday afternoon. Beside his father, are two surviving brothers, Jesse and Ruddell, and one sister, Mary Reno.

"Smokes" and "Chews"

The Record has joined with the Louisville Courier Journal and the Louisville Times in a campaign to raise money for the purchase of chewing and smoking tobacco to be sent to America's fighting men now beyond the Atlantic.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found advertisement explaining the movement in detail. In this advertisement there is a coupon to be filled out and sent to us, with such money as the subscriber wishes to contribute.

The Courier Journal and The Times have notified us that Kentucky and Southern Indiana are to be given the distinction, by those in charge of this nation wide movement, of being allowed to forward tobacco in its natural state, in other words "long green"

Every cent contributed to the Fund will be spent in the purchase of manufactured tobacco, the manufacturers having agreed to sell to the Fund all tobacco at absolute cost and Uncle Sam has agreed that tobacco for "Our Boys in France" shall not have to pay taxes or duties.

The Secretary of the Navy and Secretary of War have given the Tobacco Fund movement their hearty endorsement.

Money is now rolling into Louisville for the purchase of tobacco by the hundreds of dollars. We do not want our community to be behind in this most worthy undertaking, and we therefore urge upon our citizens to give as liberally as the can, and to give promptly.

Growers who wish to make their contributions in tobacco to the national state will bring it to our office and when a sufficient amount is collected it will be forwarded to the Courier-Journal and The Times at Louisville. Growers will please bear in mind that their contributions of tobacco should have at least a 50c value.

Every reader is urged to carefully go over the advertisement, clip the coupon, sign his or her name and address, and forward with such amount as he or she feels like giving.

Muhlenberg Schools Get Valuable Gift.

The 120 public schools of Muhlenberg county are to be supplied with a most valuable book, as Miss Amy Longest, county school superintendent, has secured a supply of Mr. O. A. Rothert's "History of Muhlenberg County," and will give a copy to each school district. This is a most timely and worthy act, as the volume is considered a work in a class by itself, no volume of like size and merit ever having been compiled and teachers and patrons of our schools are very highly pleased over the action of Miss Longest.

Pioneer Farmer Passes.

Joseph J. Wells, aged 86, died at his home near Weir last Saturday night from the infirmities of his advanced age. He was a native of the county, and a man held in high esteem by a wide circle of friends. His wife died several years ago, but he is survived by four sons, Mr. John Wells, of this city, Messrs. James, Jefferson and Robert Wells who live in the neighborhood of their old home. Rev. Gary conducted the funeral service at the home at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, and interment was in the burial ground at Olive Grove church, in the presence of a host of relatives and friends.

Friends are in receipt of cards from Mr. W. H. Reynolds, who is in charge of the music in a series of revival services being conducted by Rev. A. C. Biddle in Clarksville, beginning last Sunday. Deep interest is being manifested, and a great revival is expected.

How Mandolin Tail Pieces Make Pianos Less Costly

THE packers prove by actual figures that sandpaper and soap and other inedible products reduce the cost of beefsteak. Armour states that a steer for which he pays $76.10 is sold, as far as meat is concerned, for $67.90, or $8.20 less than cost. Utilization of by-products furnishes the explanation.

Lyon & Healy make or sell everything known in music; therefore, overhead expense, the fixed cost of doing business, is divided among thousands of items.

General salaries, for instance, are not charged against the Piano Department, but against all the various divisions of the house. Lyon & Healy Pianos have to pay only a trifle towards items of this kind compared with the charge which must be borne by other pianos.

Let us look for a moment in the Lyon & Healy factory. While this enormous building and plant is devoted in a large part to piano making, there is no corner of it which is not used.

Here is a wing of the building devoted to making the Lyon & Healy Harp, which is the standard of the world—and sold all over the globe. Another section is occupied by the Brass Instrument makers. Still another division is working on Piano Makers' Tools.

Nearby is a department filled with Mandolin makers. And in an adjoining space there are thousands of Piano Benches in course of construction.

The Lyon & Healy Piano, which retails for $8,000, and the Lyon & Healy-made Washburn Piano, which retails for $6,000, have attained such widespread popularity that they are in a class by themselves.

These instruments could not be offered to the public at these figures were it not for the Lyon & Healy organization.

They are the product of not only the finest daylight factory in America, but also of an all-round organization which leads in many different lines of musical merchandise.

Sales of Talking Machines running into large figures, wholesale and retail; sales of sheet music, wholesale and retail, unrivaled in the United States; sales of fine Violins; sales of everything known in music; all reduce the cost of Lyon & Healy Pianos.

Music lovers are invited to avail themselves of this indubitable advantage.

Every Pig Will Mean $50

When the 12c hog was predicted, many were skeptical.

When the 15c hog was predicted they were still more skeptical.

Now that they have seen the 15c hog a reality, they do not laugh when some enthusiastic hog man talks about 20c hogs. Instead they shiver in their boots and wonder where the money is coming from to buy the material that will make that delicious sugar-cured ham, and appetizing breakfast bacon.

They holler and yell about the high cost of living and agitate government control of food prices, call the farmer a crook and horsethief—then hustle over to the nearest garage and pay a twenty per cent advanced price for an automobile—fill it up with John D's Elixir of Life at twenty-five or thirty cents a gallon—strap on a couple of spare tires at $50 each that could be bought last year for half the money, and never bat an eye, and for supper they will cut themselves down to one pork chop.

Now don't let them scare you. The law of supply and demand always has regulated the price of commodities and always will.

The whole situation in a nutshell is—the supply of hogs is a minus quantity, and they are going to get higher and higher in price.

Every well-grown pig late this fall, or along in the winter, will net his owner $50 right over the scales.

Original Dixieland "Jass" Band

"A brass band gone crazy!"

That's the way a wag describes the original Dixieland "Jass" Band. Beyond that description we can't tell you what a "Jass" Band is because we don't know ourselves.

As for what it does—it makes dancers want to dance more—and more—and yet more! Just have another look at the picture above—you can almost hear the hilarious music of the "Jass" Band in your ears.

You'll want to hear the first Victor Record by this organized disorganization—it's a "winner." "Livery Stable Blues," a fox trot, and "Dixieland Jass Band One-Step" are played with charming ferocity and penetration.

USE OF BACTERIAL VACCINE

Vaccination as Preventive for Strangles and Distemper Being Extensively Employed.

The vaccination of horses as a preventive for strangles or distemper is being extensively employed. It has been found that the cause of the disease warrants the use of a bacterial vaccine. This gives assistance to nature's own efforts of protection and forms the logical means of preventing strangles as well as other diseases caused by specific organisms.

The outcome of the vaccination of horses has in some instances been disappointing. It is possible that in such cases the bacteria has deteriorated or become ineffective, or that the results are complicated by secondary infections. In the latter case it is advisable to use bacterins that will combat the secondary infections. These are called mixed bacterins, and contain a variety of killed bacteria commonly encountered in such diseases.

In case distemper appears, all healthy animals should be immediately injected with streptobacterins. The administration of bacterial vaccines should be made by a competent veterinarian, as improper administration may not provide proper protection and so result in irregularities. Bacterins can be obtained from manufacturers of various biological products.

CLIPPING HORSES IN SPRING

Heavy Coat of Hair Causes Much Sweating, Which Is Enervating to Work Animals.

A good many horses come through the winter season with heavy, rough coats that are not shed when spring work begins; the result is they are uncomfortable when at heavy work. A heavy coat of hair causes much sweating, which is enervating to the horse and consequently produces an unnecessary drain upon his strength and vitality. Nor is this all. A horse that sweats freely during the changing weather of spring is very apt to take cold. Rough, shaggy coats should be clipped in the spring before heavy work begins.

There are excellent clippers on the market for this purpose, and they can be bought at very reasonable prices. A good clipper will pay for itself in a single season on almost any farm, and sometimes it will do much more than that. If a team is laid up with a bad cold for a few days when work is pressing, the loss of work may become very expensive. This should be avoided by the use of a clipper and incidentally also make the horse more comfortable.

KEEP ALL SWINE CONTENTED

One of Most Difficult Animals to Control Once It Gets Habit of Breaking Out of Pasture.

When a hog once gets the habit of getting out of its yard, pasture or whatever its enclosure may be, it is one of the most difficult animals to control. You can stop a breakaway hog or cow if you build a fence high enough, but a hog goes through. If there is no hole in the fence it makes one. Of course if the fence was so tight at first that the hog could not get through, it won't bother you the second and forty-ninth time.

Insufficient or irregular feeding, or failing to supply something which the animals crave in the feed makes hogs restless and ready to take the first chance of exploring the outside world in hopes of finding what they failed to find in their troughs.

It saves time and patience to keep them contented and at home.

COMFORTABLE PEN FOR SOWS

Cheaper to Warm Animal With Reasonably Good Building Than to Furnish Alfalfa.

Do the hogs have warm, dry beds? Remember that it is a matter of economy in rearing hogs to provide them with comfortable quarters. It is cheaper to warm a hog with a reasonably good building, with straw and litter, than to burn alfalfa hay and 60-cent corn in maintaining the heat of the animal body.

PERMITTING RAM WITH EWES

Not Advisable to Let Him Run With Flock Longer Than Six Weeks to Prevent Accidents.

Never let the ram run with the ewes any longer than six weeks, for he will butt them around and cause them to lose their lambs.

They will mostly all get with lamb sooner than this, but it is best to keep him in long enough to be sure.

Roark's, Greenville, Ky.

DAIRY WISDOM.

The cream from different breeds of cows does not churn alike. There are more good cows in this country today than at any previous period, but there is still room for improvement.

Health and wealth in stables with pure air everywhere.

The calves will begin to eat bright clover hay at two weeks of age.

Interest in the milk goat persists, and this novel dairy animal is growing in favor.

CABBAGE CULTIVATION.

Early and Late Varieties Require Different Soil and Treatment.

Both early and late varieties of cabbage are grown extensively. In the north early cabbage may be planted in hotbeds and transplanted to the open ground as soon as the soil is ready to be worked, says the United States department of agriculture. For a late crop it is customary to plant the seeds in a bed in the open ground in May or June and transplant them to the garden in July. For cabbage of this character the soil should be heavier and more retentive of moisture than for early cabbage, which requires a rich, warm soil in order to reach maturity quickly. For the late variety it is not desirable to have too rich a soil, as the heads are liable to burst. Cabbages should be set in rows thirty to thirty-six inches apart, the plants standing fourteen to eighteen inches apart in the row.

The big prices that cabbage have brought this season, the past winter will doubtless stimulate the planting of this vegetable. The picture shows a fine field of cabbage.

To store cabbage the heads should be buried in pits or placed in cellars. One method is to dig a trench about eighteen inches deep and three feet wide and set the cabbage upright, with the heads close together and the roots embedded in the soil. When cold weather comes the heads are covered lightly with straw and three or four inches of earth put in. Slight freezing does not injure cabbage, but it should not be subjected to repeated freezing and thawing. Early cabbage cannot be kept, as it does not stand hot weather well. It should be used soon after it has formed a solid head.

WORMS IN HOGS.

Remedy Suggested by the Kansas State Agricultural College.

Importance of increasing profits in hog raising by eradicating the parasite hog worm is emphasized by Dr. R. H. Dykstra, professor of surgery in the Kansas State Agricultural college.

Many inquiries are being received by the college from farmers as to the best means of combating this pest, which saps its food from the animal and thus reduces the meat production and makes the hog more susceptible to disease.

The hog should be starved for eighteen hours and then fed two and one-half grains of salicin, one-half grain of calomel, one-half dram of powdered atropa and one dram of bicarbonate of soda to 100 pounds of live hog weight. These substances should be administered in the feed or slop. In this way each hog gets an equal portion.

The animals should be kept confined in pens so that the feces and expelled worms may be collected for a period of forty-eight hours after the medicine has been given. If such feces are not gathered up the animals will reinfect themselves by rooting around in the filth. All excreta should be burned.

Plant Silage Crops.

With prices of feed at the present levels the dairymen cannot afford to feed poor cows, and the man who has pure breeds in his barns this year is the only one who gets good returns from his feed, says the New York College of Agriculture, which advises that in planning the new farm year it will pay to plant plenty of silage crops against next winter's probable high feed prices.

Milk For Calves.

Calves especially strong at birth may be put on separated milk directly at two weeks of age, but this should not be attempted with weak ones. Until the calf is in vigorous and healthy condition no attempt should be made to change to separated milk. This change should be made gradually.

GOOD THINGS FOR THE TABLE.

Watercress is found in so many springs that it should be more widely used. As a spring tonic it has no equal in the vegetable line, served with French dressing or eaten with a sprinkling of salt with a lamb chop. It is an ideal salad and garnish.

Cream of Watercress Soup.—Pick over and wash two quarts, or four bunches, of cress, boil in a quart of water for five minutes, drain and save the water. Pound the cress with two tablespoonfuls of butter. In a saucepan mix four tablespoonfuls of flour and three of butter, when well blended add the cress water and two quarts of veal broth, cook 15 minutes. Skim, add the cress, strain, and return to a saucepan and thicken with the yolks of four eggs beaten with a cupful of thin cream. Pour very hot into a tureen and serve with croutons.

Curry of Chicken.—Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add one teaspoonful of finely chopped onions and half a chopped apple. Fry them together then add a tablespoonful of grated coconut, one quarter of a spoonful of English mustard, one tablespoonful each of curry and flour. Mix all together and cook two minutes, then moisten with a cupful of chicken stock. When boiling add the meat of half a fowl torn in shreds and let simmer for ten minutes, add three tablespoonfuls of cream and season with salt and pepper. Serve with fresh boiled rice.

Crispettes.—Beat two eggs and stir into them a cupful of white and brown sugar mixed, add four tablespoonfuls of flour, a pinch of salt and a teaspoonful of vanilla. Beat thoroughly, add a cupful of walnuts chopped fine. Drop the dough by teaspoonfuls into buttered pans, allowing three inches for the cakes to spread. Serve with fruit for dessert or with afternoon tea. They should be baked until crisp and brown.

Ginger Mousse.—Dissolve a tablespoonful of gelatin in a fourth of a cupful of water, add a pinch of salt and three-fourths of a cupful of granulated sugar. Stir into this a pint of whipped cream flavored with two tablespoonfuls of the ginger, slurr and one tablespoonful of lemon juice. Add one cupful of Canton ginger (chopped) just before freezing.

ASPARAGUS AS A TONIC.

Asparagus as well as many other green, tender vegetables not only adds variety and flavor to various dishes, but supplies ballast to cleanse the digestive tract and induces the various functions and remove waste. An old Roman proverb was, "Let it be done quicker than you would boil asparagus," which discovery years ago has not been improved upon. This tender, highly prized vegetable should be cooked quickly to hold all its fine flavor and lose as little of its salts as possible. The best method to have the whole stalk well cooked at once is to put the buncher tied into a deep pan, an old-fashioned tin coffee pot is an ideal dish, as the asparagus then will stand upright. The best sauce for asparagus is perhaps plain melted butter. Dipping the stalks into the butter and eaten as one does celery. The following sauce is rather difficult to make but is the best of all sauces for asparagus.

Mousseline Sauce.—Take a half cupful of butter, three egg yolks, two and a half tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, a fourth of a teaspoonful of salt and a few grains of paprika, and a fourth of a cupful of heavy cream. Cream four tablespoonfuls of the butter, beating the egg yolks in thoroughly, one at a time, then add the cream and salt and pepper. Set the mixture over hot water and cook until it thickens, stirring constantly. Then beat in the lemon juice and add the rest of the butter in small bits, beating with a whisk. Do not reheat.

Asparagus served in a rich white sauce served on toast is a dish most common. Asparagus cut in small pieces and cooked in milk is another good way to save every bit of the flavor. Season with salt, pepper and butter, or if liked, a small amount of flour may be added for thickening.

Asparagus cooked and added to an omelet is another good dish. Simply fold in a few tablespoonfuls of asparagus as the omelet goes into the pan. Poached eggs served with a white sauce and asparagus is another good dish. Serve the sauce on buttered toast with a poached egg on each.

A History of Muhlenberg County

BY OTTO A. ROTHERT

THIS book tells of the wilderness conquered, and of the adventures of the men and women who founded and developed the county up to and since the beginning of the railroad era, and made possible the achievements of to-day. It is the story of the county from the standpoint of its personal and public traditions, which have been arranged in related groups and form an almost continuous narrative.

It was published in 1913. Competent judges have pronounced it the best county history ever published in the United States. The Courier-Journal says, "The book is worthy of study, not only for the pictures it gives of early times and early society, but for the wealth of its curious and valuable illustrations and its expositions of the industrial and social progress of the county and its towns." The Western Recorder says, "It is more interesting than a good novel; it will interest old and young alike." The Greenville Record says, "Every Muhlenberger and former citizen of the county will value the book far above the price at which it is offered." The American Historical Review says, "The book not only contains much that is of interest to the student of Kentucky history but is written in a pleasing style."

It is a labor of love offered at cost of production, the author's time and work being contributed. The book contains 500 pages, 240 excellent illustrations and a complete index. It is printed on a superior quality of paper and is handsomely bound in dark red cloth.
